[] stated that the Senator was most anxious to receive ideas. As an example [] queried why could not this country furnish on an open basis technical advice to the political parties of other countries to enable them to organize and function more efficiently to counter the instructed and guided Communist Party. It was even suggested that the Democratic Party or possibly the Democratic and Republican parties jointly could run a technical assistance program in this regard. These ideas were not put forth as finished ideas but solely for the purpose of stimulating thought in this general area. [] stated that a similar letter to that received by the Agency had gone forward to ICA and they had received a polite reply to the effect that this was not their concern.
